SOUTH-CAROLINA,

BY HIS EXCELLENCY,

The right honourable Lord CHARLES GREVILLE MONTAGU, Captain General and Governor in chief in and over the said province.

A PROCLAMATION.

WHEREAS the right honourable the Earl of SHELBURNE, one of his Majesty's principal secretaries of state, has signified to me, that advices had been received from his Majesty's superintendents for Indian affairs, that the most unprovoked violences and murders had been lately committed on the Indians, under the protection of his Majesty, and whose tribes are at present in peace and amity with his Majesty's provinces; and likewise, that settlements had been made on the back of the provinces without proper authority, and beyond the limits prescribed by his Majesty's royal proclamation of 1763, and that in consequence the Indian nations do every where discover the greatest discontents and resentments, which may endanger the peace of his Majesty's provinces, and the safety of his subjects, and that it was his Majesty's command, that I should apply myself in the most earnest manner to remedy and prevent those evils. I HAVE THEREFORE thought proper, by the advice of his Majesty's honourable council, to issue this my proclamation, hereby strictly requiring and commanding all persons whatsoever to pay a due obedience to his Majesty's said royal proclamation, as the offenders will be prosecuted with the severity such daring crimes, which have so direct a tendency to involve the whole of his Majesty's provinces in an Indian war, deserve.

GIVEN under the great seal of the said province at CHARLES-TOWN, the ninth day of January, in the year of our Lord one thousand seven hundred and sixty-seven, and in the seventh year of his Majesty's reign.

C. G. MONTAGU.

By his Excellency's command,

D'Eon, so well known throughout Europe for his violent disagreement with the French ministry.

Paris, November 7. The affair of the Manilla ransom is not yet settled. "There is much talk here of a triple alliance which is on the tapis between Great-Britain, Ruſſia, and a third power; and it is added, that three other powers will be invited to accede thereto: but one of them ſeems to be too much employed in interior arrangements, the ſecond too much embarraſſed from the ſituation of her own dominions, and the third too ſenſible of the advantages ſhe reaps from her pacific ſyſtem, to believe that either of them will think at preſent of intereſting themſelves in foreign affairs. However, this triple alliance, in caſe it takes place, will probably induce two powerful ſtates to enter into a ſtill cloſer league."
